

Who am I? What am I?

Play the game, Who am I? What am I?

1. First, have the youth help create the game cards.
2. Distribute 3 x 5 cards to each young person. They will need pens or pencils.
3. Randomly assign one or more of the following names to each young person. They are to write the name(s) assigned on one side of a card (one name per card). Then, using the chapter content, they find the name and write a description of that person or thing on the back of their card(s).

Emperor Constantine the Great

Licinius Augustus

Emperor Theodosius

Edict of Milan

Fathers of the Church

On the Duties of the Clergy

Papacy

Christendom

Pope

Saint Ambrose of Milan

Saint Augustine of Hippo

Saint John Damascene

Pope Saint Sylvester I

Pope Saint Leo the Great

Monasticism

Attila the Hun

Saint Martin of Tours

Saint Benedict of Nursia

Saint Scholastica

Rule of St. Benedict

Order of Cistercians

Bernard of Fontaines

Oblates of Saint Benedict

Body of Christ

4. Collect the cards and shuffle them.
5. There are a number of ways you can play the game. One is to divide the group into two teams, with one member of each team participating for each round of the game. Create rules for the game such as no talking from other members of your team, etc.
6. Invite a volunteer to be the game host. The host will read the descriptions on the back of the card and ask, "Who am I?" or "What am I?" to both players. The first one to answer correctly wins a point for his or her team. Continue playing as time permits.

