

Inviting Guests

1. If possible, consider inviting guests who represent each of the following: laity, ordained ministers, and members of religious communities.
(Your local diocesan vocations office may be of help with this.)
2. Explain to the guests that you would like them to share how they share their gifts with the Church, the Body of Christ.
3. Talk with the children ahead of time to help them prepare questions they might like to ask their guests.
